

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE 16

U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT
7 May 1979

ORG 1 SALT (veri.)

Washington Whispers

It wasn't only China that volunteered to help the U.S. monitor Soviet nuclear tests after loss of U.S. stations in Iran. American officials were amazed at the number of Soviet neighbors that agreed—officially or unofficially—to permit U.S. flights over their countries to monitor such activity.